

Do You Know? Know What?

Because of its importance, FOR THIS REASON: The Quest for Purposeful Leadership was chosen by the US Library of Congress for deposit in its libraries. This special recognition means the book is now part of the Library's collection, accessible to libraries across the country, and included in the national collection. It's a wonderful honor that highlights the book's ability to inspire and educate readers, reminding us of the collective strength to lead with intention.

The Library of Congress is the world's largest library, housing more than 175 million items, including books, recordings, photographs, maps, manuscripts, and more. Its vast collection is the most comprehensive record of human creativity and knowledge. The Library of Congress is not only a treasure trove of knowledge but also a cornerstone of legislative support, cultural preservation, and public education, making it one of the world's most significant libraries.

Here is the book in its special place at the US Library of Congress.
